In Search of a Situation.

BY MAURICE S'LINGSBY.

JOHN PETERS had just graduated from the mercantile college in New York, and with a recommendation and a diploma in his pocket, was now in search of a situation. He was a good-looking young man of twenty-three; had earned with his own hands the money Professor Ferdinand Costello de Guer had received in exchange for his education. If we mistake not, John Peters was a native of a small town in Connecticut, which, from some overshot on the part of previous compilers, has had the misfortune to be entirely overlooked by the great Mr. Brooks in his universal scrutiny of that State.

For fear of rendering the town classical, as being the birthplace of our hero, we shall refrain from further mention of it, satisfied that the curiosity we have already excited, will induce future compilers to be more accurate in their researches, and thus, in course of time, it may come to be awarded to the aforesaid town, in spite of its present isolation and obscurity, its due share of geographical importance.

In what part of the city John Peters resided, or where he happened to be on the morning to which we refer, is a point not clearly shown. I am sorry, however, because the locality of John Peters might tend to strengthen the identity of John Peters, and prevent him (had this fact with some other important items been clearly established in the mind of the wealthy and influential Joshua Meirs) from entrapping the pretty bird which policy and worldly calculation had already beat into the bush for John Peters the second.

That John Peters had been looking over the morning papers, cannot be doubted, from the fact that precisely nine o'clock A. M. found him standing at the door of Mr. Joshua Meirs's counting-room; Mr. Joshua Meirs having advertised that morning for a book-keeper.

"Mr Meirs? I believe I have the honor of addressing Mr. Joshua Meirs?" said John Peters, touching his hat and bowing profoundly in the direction indicated.

"The same?" responded Mr. Meirs, with a frigidly dignified nod. "Can I be of any service to you? Please proceed!"

John Peters hesitated, and glanced about the room; the presence of Mr. Meirs was recognizable in every object.

"What shall I do? If there was only a hole somewhere," thought John. But there was no hole, and our hero proceeded.

"My name is Peters—John Peters!"

Mr. Meirs sprang from his arm-chair, as though he had received a shock from some invisible battery.

"John Peters? By all that's gracious!" cried Mr. Meirs, embracing him. "And here, like an old simpleton have I been treating you, thinking you a stranger all the while, according to the most frigid rules of etiquette. I deserve to be blowed for ever having studied Count de Orsay's Treatise. But how is your father?—how stupid in me—I can see him in every feature of your face—in good spirits, I reckon?—yes, I see, no matter about the answer—arrived in the morning train—all tired out, no doubt? Yes, of course, how could I expect you to be otherwise?—rode all night, I see! Perfectly unexpected, though—didn't dream of your coming before the expiration of another week—think your father said in his letter a week from Friday—to-day, let me see, is Wednesday—which would leave it a week from day after to-morrow. But no matter; you are just as welcome!—ah, here comes the omnibus; it will take us within two minutes' walk of my residence, and Bella is at home this morning. She can't but be delighted—come!". And Mr. Meirs caught the arm of John and started in the direction of the street.

"I fear there is a slight misunderstanding somewhere," faltered John, attempting to withdraw his arm; "it is true my name is John Peters—"

"Of course! and my name is Joshua Meirs, and you are to marry my daughter Bella. I can see no cause of misunderstanding in the matter. Hallo!" he shouted, at the same time beckoning to the driver of the "bus," and renewing his hold upon John Peters's arm. "Hallo, there, two fares this way!"

The driver held up, and Mr Meirs, in spite of the half-formed remonstrance of the bewildered John Peters, hurried him into the "bus," and in five minutes more they were ascending the marble steps of the merchant's residence.

"Is Bella at home?" inquired Mr. Meirs, of the servant on the landing.

"Troth, and I think it was the young mistress's voice I was aither hearing just now in the peanny-room!"

Mr. Meirs led the way in the direction indicated, while John, much embarassed, followed. He felt it was high time some explanation was offered. But Mr. Meirs was too much pre-occupied with the one idea—the identity of John Peters, and his proposed connection with the Meirs family—to head the confused and broken sentences of our hero, and the next moment found him face to face with the most bewitchingly beautiful creature he had ever seen.

"This is Bella!" said Mr. Meirs, with some pride; you doubtless remember her. This is your Cousin John—I hope you have haven't forgotten him. What in the world makes you stare so, hussy? I told you his hair would be as dark as your own, by this time, but you didn't believe it." Here Mr. Meirs consulted his watch, and said. "But I must be in Wall street by ten; so I shall be obliged to trust you to your own government until dinner!"

With this Mr. Meirs departed, leaving our hero indescribably confused. So soon was he gone, than Bella burst into a ringing laugh, and exclaimed: "How funny!"

Merriment is said to be contagious. John Peters laughed a response to Bella, and he had a most beautiful way of doing it, which Bella, in spite of the novelty of their situations, readily acknowledged with a blush.

"There has been a great mistake made," said John Peters, bowing sorrowfully, as though he would "a tale unfold."

"I see," said Bella, "you are trying to cover up your red hair with a wig. I hate red hair, and the change makes you look funny—it does indeed!"

"It is all a mistake," persisted John, reddening; "I never wore a wig in my life!"

"Then you must have colored it, for it was red ten years ago, and I used to laugh at you when I was angry, and advise you to keep one eye open when you slept, lest it set the bed-curtains a-fire."

"What an awkward situation!" cried John, desperately, "It is true, I am John Peters, but not the John Peters you take me for, and as for having red hair, I never had that honor, I assure you!"

It was now Bella's turn to be surprised.

"And who are you then," cried Bella, if you are not John Peters, of Baltimore?"

"On the contrary, I am John Peters of Connecticut; a graduate from the mercantile college; and at present, in search of a situation. I am not your cousin, and never saw you, to my knowledge, before to-day. Though I must confess you are the prettiest girl I ever did see, and I begin to envy the genuine John Peters, your cousin, for I can't help liking you a great deal already."

"You do? Indeed, how funny! Then you are not my cousin from Baltimore, and what is better still, my father thinks you are. I detest a cousin for a husband, and above all a red-haired husband, whether he be cousin or no. But how did it all happen that papa should make such an odd mistake? Tell me all about it."

"Well, the fact is, the whole thing was a mistake from beginning to end, and was attributable to an advertisement in the morning paper. Your father wanted a book-keeper, and advertised. I saw the advertisement, and applied directly for the situation. Before stating my business, I introduced myself as John Peters, whereupon your father, forgetting there might be another John Peters in the world, bundled me into an omnibus, and hurried me here before I could offer any explanation!"

"How odd!" exclaimed Bella. "And you are not my cousin, then, after all? but I rather like you, and am not a little pleased with the adventure, because we can both laugh together over father's mistake, and the absent John Peters's red hair."

"But I must explain the matter immediately, though I confess I dislike the idea of giving you up to the absent John Peters," answered our hero, with the same winning smile; especially as you have a natural antipathy to cousins with red hair."

"I don't see the use in explaining. Supposing we both keep quiet and let it go for granted that you are Cousin John—what harm?"

"And then supposing that he, thinking me Cousin John, should insist on our being married before the genuine John Peters comes?"

"O, it would be delightful! I do so hate to marry my cousin; besides, I like you a thousand times better. There isn't the least romance in marrying one's cousin, especially such a cousin as John Peters, of Baltimore."

Here Bella laid her pretty white hand on John's arm, and said: "But you don't care for me; of course you wouldn't like to be married to please me. I don't blame you, either, for I wouldn't marry my Cousin John if I could help it."

"On the contrary," cried John, clasping the little hand warmly, "I would give the world for that happy privilege!"

"Then you must promise me to keep still and let the matter rest as it is. You will, wont you?"

"Most certainly," answered John, "if it pleases you. I should be a brute to object, shouldn't I?"

* * * * * * *

On his return, and to his no little delight, Mr Meirs found Bella deeply interested in Cousin John. "I thought you would come round," said he. "These girls are always perverse when their lovers are out of sight, but mighty warm-hearted and agreeable when they have once got together. Howbeit, I fancy, there is a slight vein of duplicity in the best of them, I do!"

"O, no, papa, you should not be so hasty in your conclusions, for haven't I told you all along that Cousin John's hair was red, and that my principal objection was based upon that fact. But you see there is a slight mistake somewhere, for his hair (pointing to the counterfeit cousin's) is quite dark and glossy. I must really confess, papa, that I like John very much; a great deal better than I expected."

"I do, indeed?"

"Then," said Mr. Meirs, exultingly, "if I were in John's place, I would just take the liberty to strike while the iron is hot. There is nothing gained by delays, and a week hence you might be as far off the handle as you were a week ago."

"O, no, I am not fickle; but I will leave the whole matter with you and John. Whatever you and he think proper, I will submit to. I must confess I like him a great deal better than I expected."

"There, Bella, you talk like a sensible girl," cried Mr. Meirs. "I knew you would. I like your resolution. There is nothing so rare in this world as a sensible girl at your time of life. John is no fop nor profligate. He will make you a good husband; will look after your interests, and I think will be worthy of you. As for the wedding, John, it shall be left entirely with you to say. Bella is willing, and I can see nothing to prevent its taking place right away."

To say that our hero was perfected unaffected by these remarks, would be presuming too much.

"I think whatever you think proper," said John. "Any arrangement agreeable to you will be equally so to me. I have a great respect and affection for Miss Meirs, and if I can be so far forgiven for my presumption, I can safely say that, to be the husband of your daughter, this moment, or at any future time, would be to me the choicest gift of Heaven to bestow."

"Very sensible remarks," said Mr. Meirs, joyfully, "and, as you are obliging enough to leave the matter to my direction, I shall say Friday week, that being the day on which I had first anticipated your coming. This will give Bella ample time for all necessary preparations, and you, also, to apprise your father, and such other friends from Baltimore, as you propose to invite."

"If I might be allowed my preference in this respect," answered our hero, glancing at Bella for encouragement, "I would much rather not mention it to my friends till afterwards, and thus give them an agreeable surprise. In fact, before I saw you this morning, I had not even dreamed of such sudden good fortune."

"And besides," interposed Bella, earnestly, "your father might not feel very much like journeying so soon after an attack of gout. As for me, I would a great deal rather give the money away which would be spent on such an occasion, to some of the poor families who are starving in this city."

"Nobly spoken!" cried Mr. Meirs, with enthusiasm, and glancing at Bella with a world of pride and affection. "Nobly spoken, my daughter. With such prudence, and such charitable feelings, you will make your Cousin John a pattern of a wife. I heartily agree with you in this respect, and you shall have it your own way."

Our hero, who, in truth, independent of her charms of person, had looked upon Bella as somewhat frivalous, was equally charmed by her remark; and, had the occasion warranted, would have pressed a kiss of approbation on her lips.

During the time which elapsed between this and the day set for the marriage of his daughter, Mr. Meirs seemed overflowing with good humor and enjoyment. He made several presents to the poor of his acquaintance, and even gave Bella the sum of five hundred dollars to be used, if she chose, for the same purpose.

In the meantime, our hero was living in the greatest possible intimacy with Bella. Every day they walked, rode, or sung together, while the merchant looked on, and entered into their plans with increasing satisfaction.

At length the long anticipated Friday arrived, and a few chosen guests were assembled at the residence of Mr. Meirs, to witness the nuptials.

John Peters had exhausted his last dollar in remunerating the tailor who had furnished him his wedding coat, and by the assistance of the barber who had trimmed his moustache, cut and curled his hair after the most approved style, our hero was really as fine a looking fellow as could be found anywhere within the precincts of the city; and Mr. Meirs and Bella were not a little proud of introducing him among their aristocratic friends. The pastor who presided over the church with which Mr. Meirs was connected, had already arrived, accompanied by a clerical acquaintance, while Bella, attired in a dress of white satin, with a white veil surmounted by a crown of flowers, had just entered, resting on the arm of the bride's maid. During the sensation created by the entrance of the bride, another door had opened, and a young man, some five feet four inches in height, with dusty garments and very red hair, was pushed in by the servant, and with much amazement depicted on his freckled, unprepossessing features, sank down into the nearest chair, without attracting any particular observation at the time, from the rest of the company assembled.

As the ceremony progressed, and the question was asked by the clergyman if any one objected to the banns, he of the red hair and freckles rose and said: "I object, Mr. Clergyman, most decidedly object—"

"What?" cried Mr. Meirs, springing forward and confronting the excited young man of the red hair and freckles. "And who are you that dare to object to my daughter's marriage with her cousin? Will you explain yourself, sir?" cried the terrified Mr. Meirs, shaking his fist in the face of the frightened intruder. "Speak, or by my faith, I will bundle you headforemost into the street!"

"I can't, sir," cried the proprietor of the hair, while you continue so excited."

"Then, by my soul!" cried the merchant, still more excited in his tone. "I'll just give you to understand that you have no right to dictate in my own house!" And suiting the action to the word, he seized the unlucky intruder by the shoulder, and forced him from the room.

"Now," cried Mr. Meirs, turning to the clergyman, "please proceed with the ceremony!"

Agreeably with Mr. Meir's request, the ceremony proceeded, and in less time than it takes us to relate it, John and Bella were indissolubly united in the bonds of wedlock.

No sooner was the ceremony over, than Bella, clasping her husband's hand, knelt before her father, and said: "Forgive us, dear father, for the deception we have practised upon you. This is not Cousin John, of Baltimore!"

"Then who under the sun is he?" cried Mr. Meirs, glancing about the room in a most bewildered manner.

"It is John Peters, but not Cousin John. My dear husband came in the first place to you, in search of a situation, and you, forgetting that there might be another John Peters in the world beside your nephew John, have very innocently assisted us in carrying out the deception. Therefore, you must forgive him, dear father, for he is far less to blame than either of us, for you in the first place being deceived by the name, and we in the second place having the misfortune to be greatly pleased with one another, it was quite natural for us to yield to the temptation."

"I see," answered Mr. Meirs, with much apparent chagrin, "I have just had the honor of turning your cousin out of doors, which makes a compound blunder on my part. To tell you the truth, Bella, I am far more vexed at my own stupidity than with any one else. As for John Peters, added Mr. M., in a half-humorous, half sarcastic tone, "I think I must forgive him—for his name's sake, if nothing more. As for you, hussy, I shan't say to-night whether I shall forgive you or not. It will depend mainly how we succeed in pacifying your Cousin John."

Suffice it to say, for the final gratification of the reader, that John Peters, of Baltimore, was readily pacified, after a suitable explanation and apology being tendered him by his cousins, on the following day, and what is still further averred, did actually laugh over the circumstance so heartily, that for a moment his face grew redder than his hair.

And still further, by those who have a right to know, it has been affirmed that John Peters, of Connecticut, became not only a model husband to Bella, but a model assistant to Mr. Meirs, in all matters pertaining to business.

BOARDING-HOUSE FELICITIES.—An exchange says:

There is a curious story afloat of a cowhiding affair up town, in a fashionable boarding-house—cowhider, a "charming California widow;" cowhidee, a respectable merchant—cause, gossip and slander—scene, the dinner table, in the presence of fifty or sixty guests.

So severe were the blows of the aforesaid, that his face was completely marked lengthwise and crosswise with red lines. Some of the ladies screamed, and were sorely agitated, and many of the gentlemen remonstrated, but the lady paid no attention, but still dealt her blows vigorously upon the head of the offending merchant. At length one of the gentlemen interfered, and wrested the cowhide from her hand. The victim was removed to his room, where he was confined several days in consequence of the mutilation of his physog.

The affair has been kept very still, it being said that, "in consequence of the many intrigues and amours among nearly all the boarders in the house, each and every one seemed appointed a member of the silent committee, and a general feeling prevailed to hush up the matter." It strikes us that such a nest of birds as these ought to be named, if noticed at all.

MR. TEN BROECK'S HORSES IN ENGLAND.—The New Orleans Picayune is assured by reliable authority, that the accounts of some of Mr. Ten Broeck's horses, now in England, being amiss, and not likely to be in order to run in July, are entirely erroneous. Nothing had happened to either of them, at last reliable advices from New Market, where they are located, and nothing has occurred to lessen their owner's confidence that they will be in condition, when the time comes, to vindicate the credit of the American turf.

FRESHETS.—The damage to steamboats by the late freshets on the Ohio is estimated at $170,000.

Personal.

MARYSVILLE, April 2d, 1857.

To the Editor of the Fireman's Journal:

SIR: My attention has been directed to some remarks in your issue of March 14th, under the caption of "Past, Present, and Future of the Sacramento Fire Department." I had not heretofore thought that language of such a slanderous and contemptible nature (to say nothing of its falcity), and against one who is and always has been an active firemen in this State, would have been admitted to your columns. I had not thought, sir, from my long and intimate acquaintance with you, that you would have indorsed, even by publication, such remarks against one whom you well know has been a warm and constant friend to the interests of firemen and the different departments of Sacramento and Marysville since the day he imported the first fire engine (Confidence No. 1, of Sacramento city) to this State, in December, 1849. But as the subject has been broached, I will take the trouble to reply in a very few words only. My early connection with the Sacramento Fire Department, my exertions and constant attention to its promotion and welfare are too well known by all the firemen and citizens of that date to be ridiculed (to my injury) by such a fellow as W. B. H. Dodson!

My old company, Mutual Hook and Ladder Company No 1, have approved my acts and endeavors, by bestowing upon me the highest honor within their gift (honorary life member), and that fact is sufficient to place me beyond the scurrilous and false insinuations of such a person as your Sacramento historian—"Dodson!"

As regards the "Grapple"—the origin of which he has seen fit to give me the credit of—I can only say it was no more of my origin than of several others. It was gotten up by, and with the advice of a number of the members and the gentleman who was then foreman—D. McDowell, Esq.—and was used to good advantage on two occasions; and as to its weight being "just ninety-one pounds," and I do not hesitate to denounce it a bare falsehood.

To W. B. H. Dodson and his informant, either or both, I wish to say fairly and above board, that I consider they have published miserable, contemptible falsehood, and the sooner any Department get rid of such firemen, the more it will be to their credit. Very respectfully,

JOHN T. BAYLEY.

The above we publish in justice to Mr. Bayley. The article containing the objectionable extract was not seen by us until we read it in the Journal, while making our tour through the State. Had we been consulted in the matter, we would not have consented to its publication. What motives induced the writer of the history of the Sacramento Fire Department to single out Mr. Bayley for animadversion, is beyond our knowledge, and can only be answered by himself. We have always found him just and fair, and in this instance will doubtless make ample reparation; that is, if, as a writer for this paper, he wishes to maintain its reputation for dignity and liberality.

Personally, we esteem Mr. Byaley; and have during our long acquaintance with him, held but one opinion respecting him, and that was, whether in the exercise of his duty as an officer, or in the private walks of life, he acted the true gentleman. He has always been a warm friend of the writer of this, and none regrets more than he that Mr. Bayley should have been named in the Fireman's Journal in connection with any other terms than those of respect.

Mr. Bayley will observe that we have, in a measure, modified his note; and his own good sense will prompt him to indorse the act.

New York.

MEETING OF THE BOARD OF FOREMEN AND ENGINEERS—THE NOMINATION FOR ASSISTANT ENGINEERS. The Board of Foremen and Engineers held a meeting at Fireman's Hall Thursday evening—Henry H. Howard, Chief Engineer, in the chair. After the calling of the roll, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the election for Assistant Engineers of the New York Fire Department, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the election of Henry H. Howard, Esq., to the Chief Engineership, take place on the evening of Monday, 16th March, 1857, between the hours of 7 and 10 o'clock, at the different engine, hose, and hook and ladder houses, and that the returns be handed in to the Chief Engineer on Thursday evening, March 17, 1857, between the hours of 7 and 9 o'clock, and that the usual form governing such elections be adopted.

Messrs Burhars, of Hose 24, Mitchell, of Hook and Ladder 2, and D. W. Knevels, of Engine 2, were appointed inspectors to canvas the returns.

A committee, consisting of Messrs. Wenman, Slowey, and Lyons, were delegated to revise the by-laws of the Board.

Immediately after the adjournment, the meeting was again called to order, and, on motion, Samuel Burhars, Jr., of Hose 24, was called to the chair, and Engineer J. F. Wenman appointed Secretary.

A resolution was offered that a vote be taken for candidates for Assistant Engineer, and that the three persons receiving the highest number of votes be declared the regular candidates. An amendment to make the number of four was carried. A subsequent amendment to make it two was lost, and the amendment of four prevailed. The nominations were then proceeded with. The following names were offered:

Thomas Rowe, Engine 16.
Isaac G. Seixas, H. and L. 2
Thomas Goodwin, H. and L. 15.
Robert V. Mackey, Hose 4.
Chas. K. Lyons, Hose 10.
Richard P. Moore, Engine 42.
Daniel Donovan, Engine 13.
Eugene Ward, Engine 29.
C. E. Mansfield, H. and L. 18.

The name of Mr. John Slowey was also offered, but that gentleman declined.

The chair appointed the following named gentlemen inspectors:

Messrs. Brown, of Engine 8, Lynes, Hose 9, M. H. Fisher, H. and L. 15, for Engineers, Engines, H. and L., and Hydrant Companies; for Hose Companies, Messrs. Bulteel, Hose 38, Evans, H. and L. 6, and J. Gilleland, Engine 35.

The ballot was proceeded with, and the following is the result:

Isaac G. Seixas, 17; C. H. Lyons, 26; Eugene Ward, 13; Daniel Donovan, 12; T. F. Goodwin, 11; Thomas Roe, 10; Richard P. Moore, 6; R. V. Mackey, 9; Charles E. Wakefield, 2; Jas. Leonard, 2.

The whole number of votes cast was 109.

Messrs. Seixas, Lyons, Ward, and Donovan were declared the duly elected nominees for Assistant Engineer, upon which the meeting adjourned.

Fires in the Atlantic States.

FIRE AND DEATH.—The farm house of ——— Holmes in Winsted, was set on fire and burnt down at an early hour on Sunday morning, March 1st. The occupants of the house were Mr. Holmes and wife some sixty odd years of age, and a little girl. They all rushed from the burning house with only their night clothes on; but Mr. Holmes attempted to re-enter to save his papers, and in the attempt lost his life by suffocation. The last his wife saw of him he was on his hands and knees, partially strangled by the smoke. The nearest neighbor was half a mile distant, to whom Mrs Holmes and the little girl, barefoot, and with nothing on but their night clothes, hastened for relief. The house and all its contents were consumed. The fire is supposed to have been the work of a negro, who has been arrested, and who is said to be a bad customer. The fellow's wife had left him, and it seems Mr. Holmes had taken the wife's part, and in consequence the negro had sworn vengeance. The negro had some warm words with Mr. Holmes on Saturday last.—Hartford Courant.

The Arey Block, together with Messrs. Benj. Hewey and Job Lord's buildings, at Frankfort, Me., were destroyed by fire Monday morning, February 16th. The origin of the fire is unknown. FIRE IN FRONT STREET.—On Friday morning, Feb. 13, about half past 4 o'clock, a fire broke out in the storage building of Walter R. Wood & Co., No 61 Front street, and occasioned upwards of $5,000 damage. This damage was chiefly confined to a quantity of cotton, rice, and flour belonging to Whittemore & Co. The loss is partly insured.

THE BURNING OF THE WASHINGTON THEATRE.—The destruction of the National Theatre is believed to have been the work of an incendiary, as the fire commenced in the dome, where no one was employed. The old National, as it was familiarly called, was one of the largest theatres in the United States. It was destroyed by fire on the 4th of March, 1845, the evening after the inauguration of President Polk. A complimentary benefit is to be given to the company, under the special patronage of Congressmen.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.—A fire occured on the 13th of February in New York, which destroyed Nos. 26 and 28 Broad street; loss $100,000.

FIRE IN ELIZABETH STREET.—A fire occurred on Thursday night, February 12th, about 9 o'clock, in the hide and fat house of J. Hurd & Son, No 178 Elizabeth street, and caused about $1,500 damage. No insurance. The fire was occasioned by the boiling over of fat.

A fire occurred at Burlington, Iowa, on Saturday the 14th of February, which destroyed four stores in the centre of the city. The total loss is about $80,000.

A destructive fire occurred at Toledo, Ohio, on the morning of the 13th of February. Many buildings were burned, including the City Hotel, Railroad House, Tremont House, New England House and Clinton House.

RECKLESS ENGINE RUNNING.—During a false alarm of fire in Mercer street about 12 o'clock on the night of February 20th, Henry Price, of Engine Company No. 11, was run over and had one of his legs shockingly bruised and lacerated by Engine Company No. 34.

The tannery of Mr. J. Castleton, at Salem, Mass., with several buildings adjoining it, was burned down on Friday last. Loss estimated at some $12,000.

FIRES IN NEW YORK.—It appears by the Fire Marshal's report for the first six months, that during that period there were 142 fires in the city, alleged loss $1,050,394; amount of insurance $1,932,110; amount paid $740,061. The incendiary fires from June 1st to Nov. 30th, 1856, numbered thirty-eight less than during the previous six months. There were, however, only four arrests.

POUGHKEEPSIE.—A fire in Poughkeepsie on the night of February 26th, destroyed property to the amount of $50,000. Partially insured.

An embroidery and lace store belonging to Jas. Donaldson, on Broadway, New York city, was burned on Sunday, February 15th, with a loss of $25,000.

The immense saw mill of Knapp, Scout & Co., at Menomonie, Wis., was burned January 25. Loss $150,000.

A two-story brick building, belonging to the Beverly Manufacturing Company, at Beverly, Mass., was burned on the morning of February 15th. Supposed cause, spontaneous combustion. The loss is estimated at $20,000. Fully insured.

Lathrop Hall, at South Deerfield, Mass., was burned Friday, February 20. Loss $4,000.

John T. Stackpole, of Lawrence, Mass., had his leg broken and was otherwise injured by being run over by a fire engine, on Thursday, February 19th.

A part of the Bay State Glass Works, East Cambridge Mass., was destroyed by fire on Thursday night, February 12th. Loss $40,000 — insured $10,000.

DESTROYED.—The "Dutchess County Print Works" of Gamer & Co., at Wappinger's Creek, Dutchess county, N. Y., were destroyed by fire on the 25th of February. Loss 880,000. Insured for $100,000.

THE NEW HOTEL ON MADISON SQUARE.—Mr. Eno has decided to go ahead and build a magnificent Hotel on the Fifth Avenue, between 23rd and 24th sts, fronting on Madison Square, New York; and is now receiving proposals to furnish the work and the materials. It will be 200 feet square, six stories high, and constructed with special reference to the health and comfort of the guests, without wasting money in extravagant and ridiculous decorations. The location is the finest in the city; and if the parties who have been named as Lessees should conclude to take the "MADISON SQUARE HOTEL," they may make a million of dollars in ten years.

MANCHESTER, N. H.—Peter S. Brown has been elected Chief Engineer, and Alpheus Gay, Jr., J. T. P. Hunt, and E. G. Fairwanks, Assistant Engineers of the Manchester (N. H.) Fire Department.

Col Forney's residence in Washington city had been closed since last fall, and on opening it a few days since, it was found that every part of the furniture, from cellar to kitchen, had been gnawed to pieces by the rats.

Odds and Ends.

On a steamer stood a dreamer, smoking with an air serene, gently musing and perusing records of a distant scene. To the diggins murmured Wiggins, I'll be off next week, I swear; there—by thunder!—I'll go under, or return a millionaire.

A woman is always at the bottom of trouble. You remember the story of the Shah of Persia. When he was told that a workman had fallen from a ladder, he called out: "Who is she? who is she?" "Please your Majesty, 'tis a he." "Nonsense!" said the Shah, "there never an accident without a woman; who is she?" The Shah was right; the man had fallen from his ladder because he was looking at a woman in a window opposite. Many a man does this in other countries besides Persia.

"Where did you come from?" said Wilkes to a beggar in the Isle of Wight. "From the devil."—"What is going on there?" "Much the same as here." "What's that?" "The rich taken in and the poor kept out."

A good story is told of a sheriff who came near being outdone by a person it was in the line of his duty to hang. "Sir," said the gentleman, as the sheriff was carefully adjusting the rope "really, your attentions deserve my thanks. In fact, I do not know of any one I should rather have hang me." "Really," said the sheriff, "you are pleased to be complimentary. I do not know of another individual it would give me so much pleasure to hang."

Rubini was passionately fond of cards. One of the scene-shifters of the Theatre Italien was such an adept that the great tenor used to pursue him behind the scenes to play a hand in the interval of an act. At the performance of "Semiramide," this man having to take his place on the middle of the stage, behind the tomb of Ninus, Rubini pursued him there, to have a hand while the performance was going on in front.

A crowd of spectators attended the hanging at Brentville, Va., on the 13th of February, of the 3 slaves of Geo. Green, for the murder of their master, which they confessed. They were a woman of 70, her daughter of 50, and her grandson of 17. They were led to the gallows in long white shrouds with the ropes round their necks. The two youngest died easy, but the old woman, who had long been a professor of religion, and was no doubt the instigator of the whole affair, continued to breath, for about seven minutes, and died extremely hard.

A lawyer, having some legal business to transact with a widow lady, took occasion to inquire her age. The matron, who had long since doffed the "widow's weeds," attempted to look prim, and much younger than she really was, as she replied: "Thirty-five, sir." Then, turning to the daughter, he said: "May I be so bold, Miss, as to inquire your age?" "Certainly; I am a little past thirty-two—most three years younger than mother?"

A mess of boys were talking about scarecrows: "Scarecrows! he! he!" says one of the party, an overgrown, slab-sided, spoony looking youth—"he!" says he, evidently in reply to some remarks that had preceded his. "You don't know anything about scarecrows. If you'd seen one that Uncle Ben made, I guess you'd think so too. Why Uncle Ben made one and set it up in daddy's corn-field, that nearly frightened the feathers off of every crow that looked at it; and, by golly! one crow that had been pecking around the field for two or three days, after he had seen it, actually flew away and brought back all the corn he had stolen in that time—fact!"

LATIN PROPHECY OF WASHINGTON.—In the writings of Marcus Tullius Cicero, the celebrated Roman orator, who was basely murdered by the orders of Anthony, in his sixty-third year, and forty-two years before the Christian era, the following remarkably prophetic language occurs, which seems particularly applicable to Washington: "Far across the ocean, if we may credit the Sibylline leaves, and after many ages, an extensive and rich country will be discovered, and in it will arise a hero, who, by his counsel and arms, shall deliver his country from the slavery by which she was oppressed. This shall he do under favorable auspices; and O! how much more admirable will he be than our Brutus and Camillus! These predictions were known to our Accius, and were embellished

To the Members of the San Francisco Fire Department.

We, the undersigned, a special Monumental and Cemetery Committee appointed by the Board of Delegates of this Fire Department, inform you that a book of subscription is now opened at the office of H. A. COBB, Nos. 100 and 102 Montgomery street, for the purpose of receiving donations to aid in fencing the FIREMAN'S CEMETERY and erecting a permanent MONUMENT to our deceased brothers, who perished in discharging their duties as firemen.

H. A. COBB, Chairman,
W. H. SILVERTHORN,
E. P. BUCKLEY.

Official.

OFFICE OF CHIEF ENGINEER,
SAN FRANCISCO FIRE DEPARTMENT,
April 9, 1857.

The Foremen of the various engine companies are respectfully requested to send in the number of feet of hose, good, bad, and indifferent, to the undersigned as early as practicable.

F. E. R WHITNEY,
Chief Engineer S. F. F. D.

Hose.

We are exceedingly gratified in being enabled to announce to the Fire Department, that Mr. John Sime, and Mr. Frederick Billings, from the committee of citizens appointed for the purpose, in conjunction with Chief Engineer Whitney, have purchased for the use of the organization "four thousand three hundred and eighty-four feet of hose;" the very best in the opinion of the Chief Engineer that has ever come from New York. The purchase money amounted to $6,693 75; 3,927 feet were purchased at $1 50 per foot, and 459 feet at $1 75.

We consider this the best luck that has happened to the Department for many a day, and it will do the heart of the most apathetic fireman good to take a look in the room in the basement of the City Hall, where the hose is stored, and see the bright new couplings, shining rivets, and spick new leather, coiled up so comfortably for future and present use when necessary. Whoever packed the lot of hose we speak of, understood his business, for it is in a remarkable state of preservation. To Messrs. Sime and Billings, appointed by the general committee to superintend the matter, the firemen are under more than ordinary obligations, for the assiduousness with which they have fulfilled the obligation which rested upon them, they have added another good deed to the many they have heretofore performed towards the organization.

The Druggists.

On the occasion of the injuries received by Mr. Summers, of No. 6, Messrs. J. H. Widber & Co., Druggists at the corner of Washington and Kearny streets, supplied him with every prescription ordered by Dr. Stout gratuitously, and did so in the kindest manner, for which Mr. Summers, and the "Monumental's" express their acknowledgements. We think we can say that without exception, every druggist in town would act likewise, and in fact we are authorised to announce to the Department that Messrs. B. B. Thayer on Montgomery, near Market street; Wm. H. Keith & Co. at the corner of Montgomery and Clay streets; W. H. Wood, at the corner of Montgomery and Bush streets; Coggershall & Co., at the corner of Stockton and Pacific streets, and the firm first mentioned, stand ready at all times, when firemen are injuredin the discharge of their duties, or are too poor to purchase for themselves when ill, to relieve them.

Messrs. William B. Little & Co., 187 Montgomery street, by letter to the Board of Delegates, expressed the same feeling towards the Department. As we said before we believe there would not be an exception throughout the whole city; and it will afford us much gratification to announce to the Department the places of business of all those who feel they would like to have the Department know their disposition towards its members.

RIOT.—Col. Mahony, President of the Fire Department, at the last meeting of the Board of Delegates did not order the roll called until 8 o'clock, although 7½ o'clock was the hour for meeting; and on taking his seat stated to the Board that hereafter he would enforce that by-law, which inflicted a fine on all absentees; that he had postponed the meeting one half hour, so as to give all an opportunity to be present; and he therefore ordered the Secretary to fine every member not present. We say amen to that, and hope that companies will recall their derilect Delegates and send useful men in their places.

THE PARADE.—The Board of Delegates on Wednesday evening, decided by a vote of seventeen to eleven, not to parade on the 25th of May—at the same time expressing an opinion favorable to a parade of the Department sometime during the summer. The view taken of the matter by the several delegates who participated in the debate, was characterized by justness and fairness.

LUCKY.—J. P. Dyer, a member of Mutual Hook and Ladder Company No. 1, has been elected Mayor; James Lansing, of Confidence Engine Company No. 1, Marshal; James Sullivan, of the same company, Treasurer; and J. H. Houseman, foreman of Protection No. 2, Tax Collector of the City of Sacramento.

THE HALL BELL RINGERS.—Will the ringer on the Hall bell inform us, why the alarm for the 3rd District was struck on Sunday? The smoke from the chimney in the rear of Biggs and Kibbee, has given just as much cause for alarm for the past two years, as it did on Sunday; and for that reason we think the alarm was entirely annecessary, and might have caused loss of life. The Bell Ringers must use more discrimination.

ENTERPRISE.—Mr. E. Ford, the proprietor of the "Eureka Market," on Bush near Sansome streets, started a subscription paper one day during the week, and having obtained the requisite amount, filled the cistern at the corner of Bush and Sansome street; the water being obtained from the tanks of Mr. Oltman on Market street; 550 feet of hose from the house of California 4, being used for the purpose. Such an act is worthy of all commendation, and should entitle Mr. F., to the best notice of his neighbors and the community.

Board of Delegates.

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Delegates was held at their chambers, City Hall, on Wednesday evening, April 8, 1857.

President Florence Mahony in the chair.

The roll being called, the following members answered to their names:

Messrs. Cotter, Babcock, Smith, Rand, Ottignon, Lees, Tompkins, Buckingham, Silverthorn, Moore, Thomas, Chapin, Short, Gough, Biden, Johnson, Buckley, Doyle, Jones, Tennent, Whalen, Ezekiel, Cobb, Mitchell, Law.

Absent—Messrs. McCarthy, Spear, Sinton Harrison, and Berry.

Messrs. McCarthy and Sinton excused for being absent.

The chair stated that hereafter the fine imposed upon absentees would be strictly enforced.

Messrs. Fitzgibbons and Edgar having presented their credentials, were admitted as delegates from Tiger Engine Company No. 14.

Mr. A. F. Branda was admitted as a delegate from Volunteer Engine Company No. 7, vice A. C. Messerve, resigned.

The minutes of the regular meeting of March 11, and special meeting of March 13, were read and approved.

Mr. Biden moved that the rules be suspended to qualify members according to the law. Carried.

Mr. Moore moved to reconsidet the vote on the above. Lost.

After some discussion, the roll was called, and the members present were then sworn in by the President.

REPORT OF COMMITTEES.

Judiciary—no report.

Mr. Buckingham moved that the Judiciary Committee be granted further time, and be requested to report fully at the next regular meeting—particularly upon the registry of names.

Finance—no report.

Mr. Moore moved that the Finance Committee have till next meeting to report, and be requested to report at that meeting.

Committee on Rules—no report.

Suplementary report submitted by Committee to Sacramento City, stating that their expenses exceeded the amount appropriated ($116 75), which, on motion, was ordered paid.

Committee on Monument reported as follows:

The Monumental Committee beg leave to report that they have received the following communication:

H. A. COBB, ESQ.,

Of the S. F. Fire Department:

DEAR SIR: Having observed in the Fireman's Journal of February 28th, 1857, that a committee was appointed from the Board of Delegates of the Fire Department to select a lot of land for a cemetery; and having learned that you are chairman of said Committee, I am directed by the proprietors of the Lone Mountain Cemetery, and take great pleasure in informing you that they have selected a plot in the same (subject to approval), which they will present to the Department on condition that it be inclosed with a substantial iron or ornamental wooden fence, within six months from the date of acceptance; and that none others than the remains of deceased, former or actual, active and honorable members of the Fire Department be interred therein, and subject to the rules and regulations of the cemetery.

Should the above meet your favorable consideration, I will be pleased to accompany yourself and the committee to an inspection of the plot, at such time as may suit your convenience.

Immediately after the action of this Board in this matter, the Cemetery Company will deed the plot of ground, either to this committee in trust, or to trustees specially appointed by your body.

Your committee would beg of you further powers; that is, the power to erect a suitable fence to the grounds thus generously donated to our Department by the Lone Mountain Cemetery, provided the same be done with the funds raised from subscriptions or donations for that purpose.

Your Committee beg to call the particular attention of your honorable body to the polite attention given your Committee by Mr. Austin, Secretary of the Lone Mountain Cemetery, who seemed to take as much interest in the matter as we, your Committee.

H. A. COBB, Chairman.
WM. H. SILVERTHORN,
E. P. BUCKEY.

Mr. Buckingham moved that the report be received, and the course of the Commitee approved. Adopted.

Mr. Rand offer the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the Committee on Fireman's Cemetery and Monument be continued; and that full power be granted them to carry out all matters appertaining to the same, and that the generous offer of the proprietors of the Lone Mountain Cemetery be accepted, and that the present Committee be appointed Trustees to receive the plot of ground donated to the Department, and hold the same subject to any future action of the Board of Delegates.

Mr. Lees offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the Committee on Cemetery and Monument have power to construct a fence around that portion of the Cemetery donated to the Fire Department, from such funds as may be received by donation or subscription.

Mr. Silverthorn moved to lay it on the table Lost.

After some debate, the resolution was adopted.

Mr. Moore moved that the Department parade on Monday, May 25.

Mr. Silverthorn moved to lay it on the table, upon which the ayes and nays were called, with the following result: Ayes 17; nays 11.

So the resolution was laid on the table.

On motion, adjourned.

Fireman's Cemetery.

By reference to another column, it will be seen that the Board of Delegates have accepted the offer of the Lone Mountain Cemetery Company of a portion of their ground for a Fireman's Cemetery. Two years ago we advocated the selection of a Fireman's Cemetery, and upon a resolution presented by the editor of this paper, a committee was appointed to inquire into and report upon the same. The committee and ourselves opposed the reception of the offer of the Lone Mountain Company at that time, fearing that in consequence of the uncertainty of titles, the remains of firemen buried there might be disturbed, but we are now confident that, should the title of the company to the ground be set aside, the cemetery would never be used for any other purpose. We are glad the matter is settled.

The spot selected is one hundred feet square, situated at the juncture of Dell and Mount Hope Avenues. A high mound rises in the centre of the plot, upon which a monument being placed would render it visible from the ocean, and from all portions of the city. To Mr. Cobb, chairman of the Committee, the firemen are greatly indebted for aiding the consummation of this matter. Subscription books will be open at his office on Monday, for the purpose of raising funds to erect a monument, and construct a fence around the plot.

Fireman Injured.

On Sunday morning last, while the engine of Monumental 6 was proceeding down Washington street hill to the alarm in the Third District, Jacob Summers, one of the members, fell from the tongue, and was seriously injured by the apparatus passing over him. It appears that Mr. C. C. Jamison, another member of the company, was attending the brake of the engine, so as to check the speed on the hill. Just as the apparatus had gained full headway, and was passing the El Dorado, the forewheels struck the soft, juicy planks at that locality, throwing up a perfect shower of black mud into the face and eyes of Mr. Jamison. It blinding him, he dropped the brake to clear his eyes, and the apparatus bounding on without control, struck another dilapidated portion of the street, and the shock threw Mr. Summers from the tongue, he fell, and rolling over once, the fore and rear wheels glanced over his body as he lay prostrate in the street, lacerating his back, abdomen, and right arm. His presence of mind, in rolling over, saved his life; otherwise, he would have been crushed to death. As it is, Summers is very badly bruised, and it will require many days before he entirely recovers.

When the accident occurred, Summers was taken into the drug store of J. H. Widber & Co., at the corner of Washington and Kearny streets, where every attention was paid him. Dr. Stout, one of the surgeons of the Department, was immediately at the spot, and rendered every kindness and attention to the sufferer. Summers was afterwards removed to a private room of the Monumental Company, where every consideration has been shown him

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS.—We return our sincere acknowledgments to the Globe, Sun, and Herald, for their friendly notices of this paper.

Maguire's Opera House.

This house has been well patronized since our last, as indeed it should, with such attraction as Mrs. Hayne nightly presents. The brilliant array of ladies who beautify the dress circle every night must be a satisfaction to Mrs. Hayne and the company performing with her. The success of Mrs. Hayne at the Opera House has been unparalleled, and since the days of Thillon, we have not seen such a succession of crowded houses. During the week Mrs. Hayne has appeared as "Isabella de Falcone," in Tortesa the Usurer, as "Bianca," "Juliet," and as "Adrienne," in all of which impersonations she was greeted with unbounded applause. The picture scene in the fifth act of Tortesa we think was one of the most sublime pieces of acting we have ever seen. We wish we had it in our power faithfully to portray its beauties. It was grand, and we wonder the critics of the day have not pronounced upon it.

Mr. Pope, Mr. Ryer, and the other ladies and gentlemen of the company have, by their faultless acting, added much to the brilliancy of the season.

Mrs Hayne will leave in about a week for a trip of one or two months through the State. That it will be successful there is no doubt.

To-night she will appear as Madelaine, the Belle of the Faubourg, and we predict for her an overflowing house.

Correspondence.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 7, 1857.

To the Officers and Members of Sansome Hook and Ladder Company:

I send accompanying this a relic of the administration of John Adams, dated 1788. Its intrinsic value is nothing, but, as I am informed you are collecting old relics, it may add a mite to your cabinet. As you will perceive, it is the register of a vessel for the district of Plymouth, Mass. The vignette is the view of a light house on Monument Point, at the entrance of Plymouth Harbor, so celebrated in history. It also bears the autograph of John Adams, President, and Timothy Pickering, Secretary of State. If you accept so trifling a gift at the hands of an old Boston fireman, who served in that Department for nine consecutive years—who still retains within him "the fire of the old flint" and of course feels a great pride in the associations of his adopted city, which recall the memory of young and pleasant days passed in his native place—such a favor by you will be highly appreciated.

It also affords me sincere pleasure to be able to bear my testimony to the promptness, skill, and energy which, upon all occasions, are displayed by the San Francisco Fire Department. It meets and merits the highest praise of all citizens, and in my opinion is second to no Department in the World.

I am, gentlemen, yours, &c.,
BENJAMIN D. BAXTER.

SANSOME HALL,
SAN FRANCISCO, April 9, 1857.

BENJAMIN D. BAXTER, ESQ.,

Sir: At a meeting of the company held on the evening of the 7th inst., your letter, accompanied with a parchment copy of register of vessel, issued during the administration of the Elder Adams, was laid before the meeting.

On motion, the undersigned was requested by a unanimous vote to return the thanks of the company to the donor for his valuable contribution to our cabinet and library.

It was also ordered that your communication be published in the Fireman's Journal.

By order,
A. MALTBIE,
Secretary.

Charles Pope.

This accomplished gentleman and proficient actor takes a benefit on Wednesday evening next, at Maguire's Opera House, upon which occasion the "Bride of Lammermoor" will be performed. During Mr. Pope's sojourn in this State he has labored assiduously to gratify his friends and the public, and we do not know of any man in the same profession who has succeedng so well as he. Coming here unheralded, without any preparatory puffing, and simply with the prestige which his connection with Mrs. Hayne gave, he has won for himself the friendship and good opinion of the most critical. He leaves for the Atlantic States on the 20th of the present month, and it is with the sincerest regret we make the announcement; for Pope is possessed of qualities which are an honor to the stage.

We hope his benefit will be of a character that will testify to him that his efforts have been appreciated.

ENLARGEMENT.—We this week present the Fireman's Journal greatly enlarged and otherwise improved; and shall endeavor to keep up its usefulness and interest.

REFUSED.—The proprietor of the large hotel on the corner of Bush and Sansome streets, utterly refused to subscribe in any amount for the filling of the cisterns in the immediate vicinity of his property. When the dangerous character of the building alluded to, in the event of a fire is taken into consideration, and the fact that all assistance was refused by those interested, to the firemen, to aid them in combatting their foe, leads us to characterise such conduct as grossly culpable, if not criminal; and we give it publicity because we think the firemen and the community generally should be made aware of the occurence.

OMNIBUSSES.—A line of omnibusses has lately been put on Bush street, leaving the Plaza every other hour, and running through the above street to Lone Mountain Cemetery. These stages are a great convenience, not only to residents along the line, but to pleasure seekers. Danl. Hardesty, the driver, is attentive to his passengers, and careful in driving; and a ride to the Cemetery is therefore made with comfort. Patronise them.

GOOD.—We are informed that the proprietors of the Oriental Hotel, have signified their intention to keep the cistern in front of their premises filled with water. It is a most important locality, and ought to be well guarded.

SACRAMENTO 3.—At the semi-annual election of Sacramento Engine Company No. 3, held on Monday evening, Joseph S. Friend was re-elected foreman, G. D. Treat was elected First Assistant, Wm Hadwick Second Assistant, S. B. Robbins Secretary, and John Barenkamp Treasurer.

IMPASSABLE.—The members of the Fire Department are informed that Pacific street, from Kearny to Dupont, and Jackson, from Kearny to Montgomery, are at present impassable.

MANHATTAN 2.—D. B. Arrowsmith, has been elected Secretary of Manhattan Engine Company No. 2.

KNICKERBOCKER 5.—J. Eagan Grymes was elected Secretary of Knickerbocker Engine Company No. 5 on Monday evening, vice Wm. Broadhurst, resigned.

IN TOWN.—We had the pleasure of a visit on Wednesday, from W. H. Smith, Chief Engineer of the Sonora Fire Department.

SANSOME 3.—John C. Hewlett was elected Second Assistant Foreman of Sansome Hook and Ladder Company No. 3, on Tuesday evening.

CALIFORNIA 4.—Wm. M. Hixon has been elected First Assistant Foreman of California Engine Company No. 4, vice John O'Brien resigned.

HOME MANUFACTURE.—We had the pleasure this week, of going through the extensive Furniture Warerooms of Messrs. Jonas G. Clark & Co., No. 128 Washington street. The salesroom 275 feet in length, running through the entire block, from Washington to Jackson street, is well filled with the richest sets of Rosewood, Walnut, and Mahogany Furniture; the most of which was manufactured here by Messrs. C. & Co., who have a large number of workmen constantly engaged. We are pleased to chronicle the fact that home manufactures are on the increase in our city, and hope that those engaged will receive that success and patronage, they so well deserve.

J. R. Dunscomb.

If this meets the eye of the above named person, he will please communicate with us, as we have something of importance to transmit him.

EDITORIAL VISITS.—H. R. Hawkins, Esq., of the Placer Press, and C. A. Cellars Esq. of the Solano Herald, lit up the gloominess of our sanctum with their smiling faces during the week.

OAKLEY'S SALOON.—This fine place of resort is nightly crowded to hear the singing of Mlle. Josephine. Mr. Derrick, has the bar well stocked with the best liquors, while Mike is the most attentive bar-keeper in the city. We have always been pleased at the manner in which Ned attends upon the numerous customers that visit this saloon, always attentive and obliging to every one. He is indeed a "trump" in his line. Sam. Marshall is on hand with his fine Oregon Oysters and Clam Chowder.

THE MINSTRELS.—The San Francisco Minstrels open at Maguire's Opera House on Monday week.

AMERICAN THEATRE.—Mr. W. M. Fleming will commence an engagement at this theatre on the 20th inst.

VIGILANT 9.—At the monthly meeting of Vigilant Engine Company No 9, held on Thursday evening, John Short was elected Foreman, vice William H. Bovee, resigned, and William H. Bovee elected Delegate, vice John Short, resigned.

LIBERAL.—The cistern at the corner of Bush and Montgomery streets is now being put in repair by private subscription—L. E. Ritter, Esq., giving $50 and Mr. Russ $25. The balance made up by residents in the vicinity—a full list of which we shall publish next week. The whole expense will be about $175.

NEW ENGINE HOUSE.—The brick building recently erected for Knickerbocker Engine Company No. 5, Sacramento, on 4th street, between K and L streets, was completed by the contractor, Mr. Ordeman, on Monday, with the exception of the painting, and will be entirely finished and in readiness for the reception of the apparatus of the Company by the 15th inst., three months from the time the contractor took possession of the lot. As an ornamental structure, it will rank favorably with any in the city, and has cost much less than either of the other engine houses

Dr. L. J. Czapkay is the only Physician and Surgeon now in California who has accumulated a fortune solely by the practice of his profession. He has a classical education, and added to the talents of a physician and surgeon, he is a gentleman of easy manners, and possesses a frank and open heart. These qualities have contributed much to his success; but that which has done more for him than all else is the uniform candor he has shown to his patients. He never deceives them, but tells them with sincerity and honesty his opinion of their diseases. Though possessing confidence in himself, he never vituperates other gentlemen of the profession; and from our acquaintance with him, we believe he strives religiously "to do unto others as he would that others should do unto him.

We refer the reader to the Doctor's advertisement in an other column.

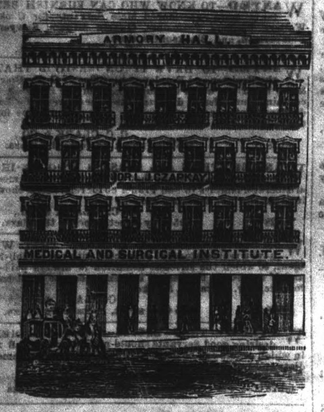
DR. L. J. CZAPKAY'S

Grand Medical and Surgical Institute,

Sacramento street, below Montgomery, opposite Pacific Mail Steamship Company's Office, San Francisco.

Established for the permanent cure of all private and chronic diseases and the suppression of quackery.



DR. L. J. CZAPKAY, late in the Hungarian Revolutionary War, Chief Physician to the 20th regiment of Honveds, Chief Surgeon to the military hospital at Pesth, Hungary, and lecturer on diseases of urinary organs and diseases of women and children, has opened his institute for the cure of all forms of private diseases, such as syphilis gonorrhea, nocturnal emissions and all the consequences of self-abuse. In the first stages of syphilitic or gonorrhoeal disease, he guarantees a cure in a few days without inconvenience to the patient in his business. When a patient by neglect or improper treatment, has developed the symtoms of secondary syphilis, such as buboes, or painful swellings of the groins, or ulcers of the throat or nose which if not checked, destroy the soft parts and cause the bones to mortify, separate and come away, leaving the sufferer hideous to behold, or when splotches or pimples break out upon the skin, or when he has painful swellings upon the bones, or when his constitution is injured so as to predispose to consumption or constitutional disease, the Doctor guarantees a cure or the no compensation.

In rheumatism, chronic or or acute, in dysentery or diarrhoea he has safe and effectual remedies. For the treatment of the consequences of self-abuse, such as nocturnal emissions, nervousness, timidity, headache, pain in the back and limbs, with general weakness, loss of appetite, loss of memory, injury to the sight, restlessness, confusion of ideas, dislike for society and a feeling of weariness of life, with the nervous system so excitable that slight noises shock or startle the patient, making his existence miserable. For the above maladies the Doctor will guarantee a cure or ask no compensation. He can be consulted free of charge, and invites all to call, as it will cost them nothing, and may be much to their advantage. oct 24

A Tribute of Merited Worth.

THE ingratitude of man to his fellow man is so often met in life that testimonials, prompted by the finer feelings of the heart, are oaffs in the life of those who sacrifice their best days in philanthropic devotion to the alleviation of the ills of frail mortality. Empiricism floods the columns of our press with fraudulent and fictitious letters, singing paeans to the worth of their sophistical charlatanism. Below we append a letter from a worthy man, who a brief period since seemed destined to "shuffle off this mortal coil," who looked forward to his dissolution with that pleasure which only those weighed down by the heavy hand of disease can. Contrary to hope, the ability of a skillful physician has restored him to his former health. Believed from his terrible situation, and impelled by gratitude, he make known his case and remedial agent, and his statement is authenticated by a notary public. The demands of society imperiously command its publicity, and it is given more to warn the unwary than to sound the praises of a physician of whom scores of like cases can be cited.

CERTIFICATE.

The undersigned, desirous of acquainting those who may be unfortunate enough to be similarly afflicted where a permanent relief to their sufferings may be obtained, feels it his duty to thus publicly express his sincere gratitude to Dr. L. J. Czapkay, for the permanent recovery of his health Borne down by the distressing symptoms incident to the vicious practices of uncontrollable passions of youth, distressed in body and mind, unable to perform even the most trifling duty in opposition the daily avocations of life, I sought the advice of many physicians, who at first regarded my disease as of trifling importance; but, alas, after a few weeks, and in several instances months, of their treatment, I found, to my unutterable horror, that instead of relief the symptoms became more alarming in their torture, and being finally told by one that the disease, being principally confined to the brain, medicines would be of little consequence, I despaired of ever regaining my health, strength, and energy; and as a last resort, and with but a faint hope, called upon Dr. Czapkay, who, after examining my case, prescribed some medicine which almost instantly relieved me of the old familiar dizziness. Encouraged by this result, I resolved to place myself immediately under his care, and, by a strict obedience to his directions and advice, my head became clear, my ideas collected, the constant pain in the back and groins, the weakness of my limbs, the nervous depression of my whole system on the slightest alarm or excitement, the misanthropy and evil forebodings, the self distrust, and want of confidence in others, the incapability to study and want of resolution, the fearful nocturnal visions, at times pleasurable dreams at night, followed by lascivious ones, have all disappeared, and, in fact, in two months after having consulted the Doctor, I felt as if inspired by a new life, the life which, but a short time ago, I contemplated to end by my own hand.

With a view to guard the unfortunate from falling into the snares of incompetent quacks, I deem it my duty to offer this testimonial in favor of Dr. L. J. Czapkay, and I recommend him to all who may stand in need of medical advice, being assured by my own experience that, once under his care, a radical and permanent cure will be effected.

B. F. FILLMORE.

State of California, county of San Francisco.—Subscribed and sworn before me this 17th day of April, A. D., 1866.

Spermatorrhœa.

OF the various debilitating diseases that destitute, weakness of the limbs and back, indisposition and incapability for labor and study, dullness of apprehension, loss of memory, aversion to society, love of solitude, timidity, self distrust, dizziness, headache, involuntary discharges, blotches on the face, pimples on the face, sexual and other infirmities in man, are cured without fail by the justly celebrated physician and surgeon, L. J. Czapkay. His method of curing diseases is new (unknown to others), and insures the greatest success. All consultations by letter or otherwise free. Address L. J. Czapkay M. D, San Francisco, California.

A CARD.—Prompted by an honest desire of my heart I wish to lay before the public a case which deserves high commendation, not only as an act of scientific skill but that of humanity also. About two years ago, I suddenly, and from from causes unknown to me, was seized with a fit of epilepsy, which, owing to my inability to meet the expenses consequent upon a thorough medical treatment and the discouragement I met with in attempting it, soon became such (and was then led to believe) as to defy the skill of physician. I was frequently, while in pursuit of my callings, thrown down by some mysterious, unseen warning, and although insensible to the agonies, I yet despised the miseries of my life, and soon learned to look upon those who would render me a distance or shelter me from danger as enemies who sought to deprive me of my only enjoyment. While in this state, and having previous to my affliction tested the sweets of life, I once more was induced to attempt restoration of a physician, and, by recommendation, called upon Dr. L. J. CZAPKAY, who told him my circumstances and my inability to reward him for his service, regardless of which however, he at once undertook my case, and with the blessing of God I was once more restored to perfect health. Unable to reward him for the boon which I enjoy at present, and conscious of my indebtedness, I consider it due to myself and to all afflicted to make the case public, in the hope that those in need of medical advice may be induced to call upon one of confidence will be placed.

SEA BATHS! SEA BATHS!

Russian Steam Baths and Mineral Baths, ON MEIGGS' WHARF.

THE FIRST AND ONLY COLD AND WARM SALT WATER BATHS, on the Pacific Coast, are now opened to the public in the beautiful large building on Meiggs' Wharf, North Beach. The construction of the various Sea Water Baths surpasses every establishment of this kind. It affords not only the fullest security, but excludes the disagreeable draughts of the winds, and leaves full action of the waves, which is the principal necessity of sea bathing; thus rendering the privilege of the ocean not only to the strong, but also to the feeble. The Warm Sea Baths are constructed in the finest possible style, and every Bath furnished with a strong douche, so desirable to produce a reaction of the skin. Both Baths are highly recommended for invalids suffering with colds, rheumatism, chronic diseases and those calamities which a change of climate inflicts upon the human system. The Russian Steam Bath, long renowned in the world as the only sure specific against colds is put up with the greatest convenience, and the newest improvements, and this with the strong power douche of Sea Water, renders it preferable to every other construction in this branch. Using Fresh Water for douche often increases the cold, and adds new pains to those felt before applying steam.

Ladies and Gentlemen patronizing us will find neatly furnished parlors, where every attention will be paid; and to bathers the utmost care will be rendered by polite female and male attendants. Omnibuses running from Clinton Point to our establishment will offer every facility and convenience of arrival and the picturesque situation will render the trip the more pleasant. Invalids from abroad calling upon us, will have the best opportunity of taking a complete Bath-cure; a series of splendidly furnished rooms, commanding a fine view, are kept solely for our patrons. Skillful Physicians and faithful servants will attend those who seek relief in our establishment. To respond to every call we furnish Sulphur and other Mineral Baths for a speedy and complete cure.

To keep pace with the times, and to deserve attention and the patronage of the public, we charge the lowest possible prices.

The great advantages offered by the proprietors will convince every body that it should be sustained for the good of mankind. Therefore, Ladies and Gentlemen of San Francisco, and of the State of California, give us your favor and patronize the SEA BATHS of DR. BRUNS & CO.

THE ELECTRO-CHEMICAL BATHS

OF DR. BOURNE,

Southeast Corner of Sansome and Commercial Streets, opposite the St. Nicholas Hotel, San Francisco.

Are effecting the most extraordinary CURES of Fever and Ague, Intermittant and other Fevers, Jaundice, Diease of the Liver, Kidneys, the Genital and Urinary Organs, all Sexual Disorders, Paralysis, Neuralgi, including Tic Doloreux Stiff Joints, and are also employed with astonishing success in DISEASES OF THE EYE.

Also, all indolent Ulcers, Tumors, Swellings, Abscess, Cancer of the Womb, and other affections of the Womb, and Cancerous affections generally, and Scrofula. These Baths seem to be Nature's own chosen medium for affecting cures where all other means would fail without them; and prove beyond the possibility of a doubt, to all who take them, the iniquity of medical practice which poisons the system by administering to it calomel, arsenic, lead, zinc, iron, antimony, quinine, iodide of potassa, and a whole host of deadly drugs, which remain in the system, and are EXTRACTED BY THESE BATHS.

During fifteen years I have never given even a solitary dose of oil or salts, much less any POISONOUS DRUGS or herbs, and have never seen a case in which they were requisite in water treatment was employed. When will the people cease to be such simpletons as to hire men to POISON and BLEED them, while they also retain on their statute books laws against poisoning, maiming, and bleeding CATTLE? Are the members of the human family less worthy of protection than animals? I assert, in the face of the State and the world at large, that there never was, or is now, and never will be, a case in which calomel, crude mercury, quinine, arsenic, lead, zinc, antimony, iodine, or any other POISON, should have been, or should be, administered to the human system, or in which bleeding, cupping, or leeching are required; and further, that hundreds of thousands fill premature graves through an ill timed or overdose of salts or oil. Let the people ponder on these things, and if the poor and deluded victims of medical rascality desire health, I pledge the honor of one man at least that I will so employ NATURE'S AGENCIES of good food, air, pure water, exercise clothing, the Electro-Chemical Baths, and the sleeping and waking hours, that without a particle of NASTY and POISONOUS medicine, I will so arouse the powers of their system that if there be any strength left they shall speedily get perfectly well in body, with minds so expanded to the perception of natural philosophy, as thereafter to cause them to set their faces against all professional rogues or fools, and awake them to a knowledge of the evils of intrusting their own vital interest to the keeping of others whose interest must ever be antagonistic to their own.

Address, by letter or personally, Dr. BOURNE, Water Cure Physician, Sansome street, opposite St. Nicholas Hotel, San Francisco, importer into this State of the FIRST and ONLY apparatus for giving these delightful and beneficial Electro-Chemical Baths, and who's experience in their use warrants him in speaking of them in the terms he employs. They require great caution in administering them, and Dr. Bourne never intrusts that duty to others, thus avoiding all danger.

So many lying and forged certificates, and PRETENDED editorial recommendations are published, that those truthful statements of facts which Dr. Bourne could offer are withheld, rather than any should suppose they were merely got up.

Consultations without charge, and charges very moderate for the benefits conferred.

PATENT AMBROTYPES

ner of Sacramento and Montgomery, streets.

To those who wish something New and BEAUTIFUL:—We have purchased the Patent Right of CUTTING AMBROTYPES for this State, and are now prepared to take them in a style unequalled in the United States, of any size, from the smallest miniature to life size.

I hereby denounce all Pictures taken on Glass in this city or State, and called Ambrotypes, as scurs, and a fraud upon the public, being a miserable imitation of the genuine article. I would say to all who have been deceived and swindled with Bogus Pictures, not to condemn this new and beautiful invention until they have seen the GENUINE AMBROTYPES. They are said to be the most durable Picture known, as neither acids, water, or dampness of any kind, can affect them. Those having Daguerreotypes which they wish to preserve FOREVER, would do well to have them copied in Ambrotype.

Great attention will be paid to GROUPING. Groups from 2 to 30 can be made perfect. Persons can now be taken with Regalias, Military or Fireman dress, without having the insignias or letters reversed.

Children taken by this new process in less than one second.

We still continue to execute our splendid Premium Daguerreotypes as usual. Having made great and extensive additions to our Gallery for the purpose of making and exhibiting our Ambrotype Pictures, we would be pleased to have our work examined. Our Gallery is FREE to all.
